Halloween

Exercise 13

Choose the correct answer of the available possible options.

1. If you think of Halloween, you probably think of scary carved pumpkins, all kinds of fancy dress and children asking for sweets. And if you think of a country that celebrates Halloween, you probably think of the United States first. Americans and Canadians have adopted Halloween in ____ big way, but Halloween traditions actually come from 16th-century Ireland, Scotland and England.

10. The Celts were afraid of the ghosts that came on Samhain. If they went outside after dark, they covered their faces with masks. They hoped any ghosts they met would think they were ghosts too and would leave them alone. In early America, the Native Americans and the first Europeans celebrated the end of the harvest, but not Halloween. When Irish people arrived, ____ harvest festival started to look more like Halloween and it became popular across the country.
